

QUICK STAFFING PROTOCOL

How I fill a niche software role in DACH automotive, banking or fintech in 24 to 48 hours

A one-page reference you can forward to your team, your CTO, or procurement before the next sprint planning call.

You post a role. Your recruiter finds 40 resumes. None of them fit. Meanwhile your roadmap slips and your own team absorbs the extra load.

That gap is what the Quick Staffing Protocol closes, fast. Not a resume search. A protocol.

HOW THE PROTOCOL WORKS

HOURLY 0-2	HOURLY 2-24	HOURLY 24-48
Scope You tell me the role, the stack, the niche requirement. I get on a call and get it exact. No questionnaire.	Match I pull from developers already vetted for niche roles in your industry. Not a cold search that starts after you sign.	Placement You get a developer matched to your stack, ready to start. Billed hourly. No surprise invoices.

HOW I BILL

Developer salary rate	€X /hour
RSA SOFT margin	€10 /hour
What you get billed	Salary rate + €10 /hour, nothing hidden

↳ The rate stays the same whether the search takes 48 hours or 4 weeks. Speed doesn't cost you a hidden premium.

WHAT YOU GET

- A developer matched to your niche stack in 24 to 48 hours, not months
- Full visibility into what you pay: salary rate + €10/h margin
- No legal exposure of a direct hire gone wrong
- A developer who knows your project like your own team does

WHAT THIS REMOVES

- The months-long search for specialized, niche staff
- The legal risk of getting a hire wrong
- The guesswork of what an agency charges on top of the rate
- The risk of a developer who checks out halfway through
